About Aicardi Syndrome

The Aicardi Syndrome Foundation, Inc. (ASF) is a non-profit organization incorporated in 1991. There is no cure for Aicardi Syndrome; it is characterized by the absence of the corpus callosum, seizures, poor muscle tone, and retinal lesions. Aicardi Syndrome only affects females. It is a rare disorder and as a result, prevalence is underreported. There are an estimated 900 females in the U.S. and thousands worldwide diagnosed with Aicardi Syndrome.

The ASF provides funds for research into the causes of Aicardi Syndrome, and supports a medical conference as a means of support and education for the affected families.

Please visit our website to learn about some of the girls and families affected by this disorder. aicardisyndromefoundation.org

The Aicardi Syndrome Foundation would like to thank our donors, sponsors, and volunteers. Without you, this event would not be possible.

If you can help us with donations of any kind, let us know! Your donation is tax deductible. The Aicardi Syndrome Foundation is a non-profit 501 (c) 3 organization.

Meet two of our daughters!

Our daughter Serena lost her battle with Aicardi Syndrome after 19 years, 3 months, and 14 days. As her parents, we were blessed to have had her in our lives each and every one of those days. We continue our fundraising efforts to keep her memory alive and to celebrate how special she and all her "Aicardi sisters" truly are. We continue to fight for her and all Aicardi girls to find the cause of this very rare disorder, and to support the families with their daily struggles.

Terry and Linda Tveita

Taylor is our 17 year old daughter with Aicardi Syndrome. She is unable to walk and talk and has daily seizures. For a 17 year old, she has been through so much but still continues to find happiness in the simplest thing. A lesson for us all. She is loved by everyone around her and brings so much joy to our lives each and every day. We are so thankful that she is OURS! Thank you for supporting the Foundation.
